

Coffee shop analysis

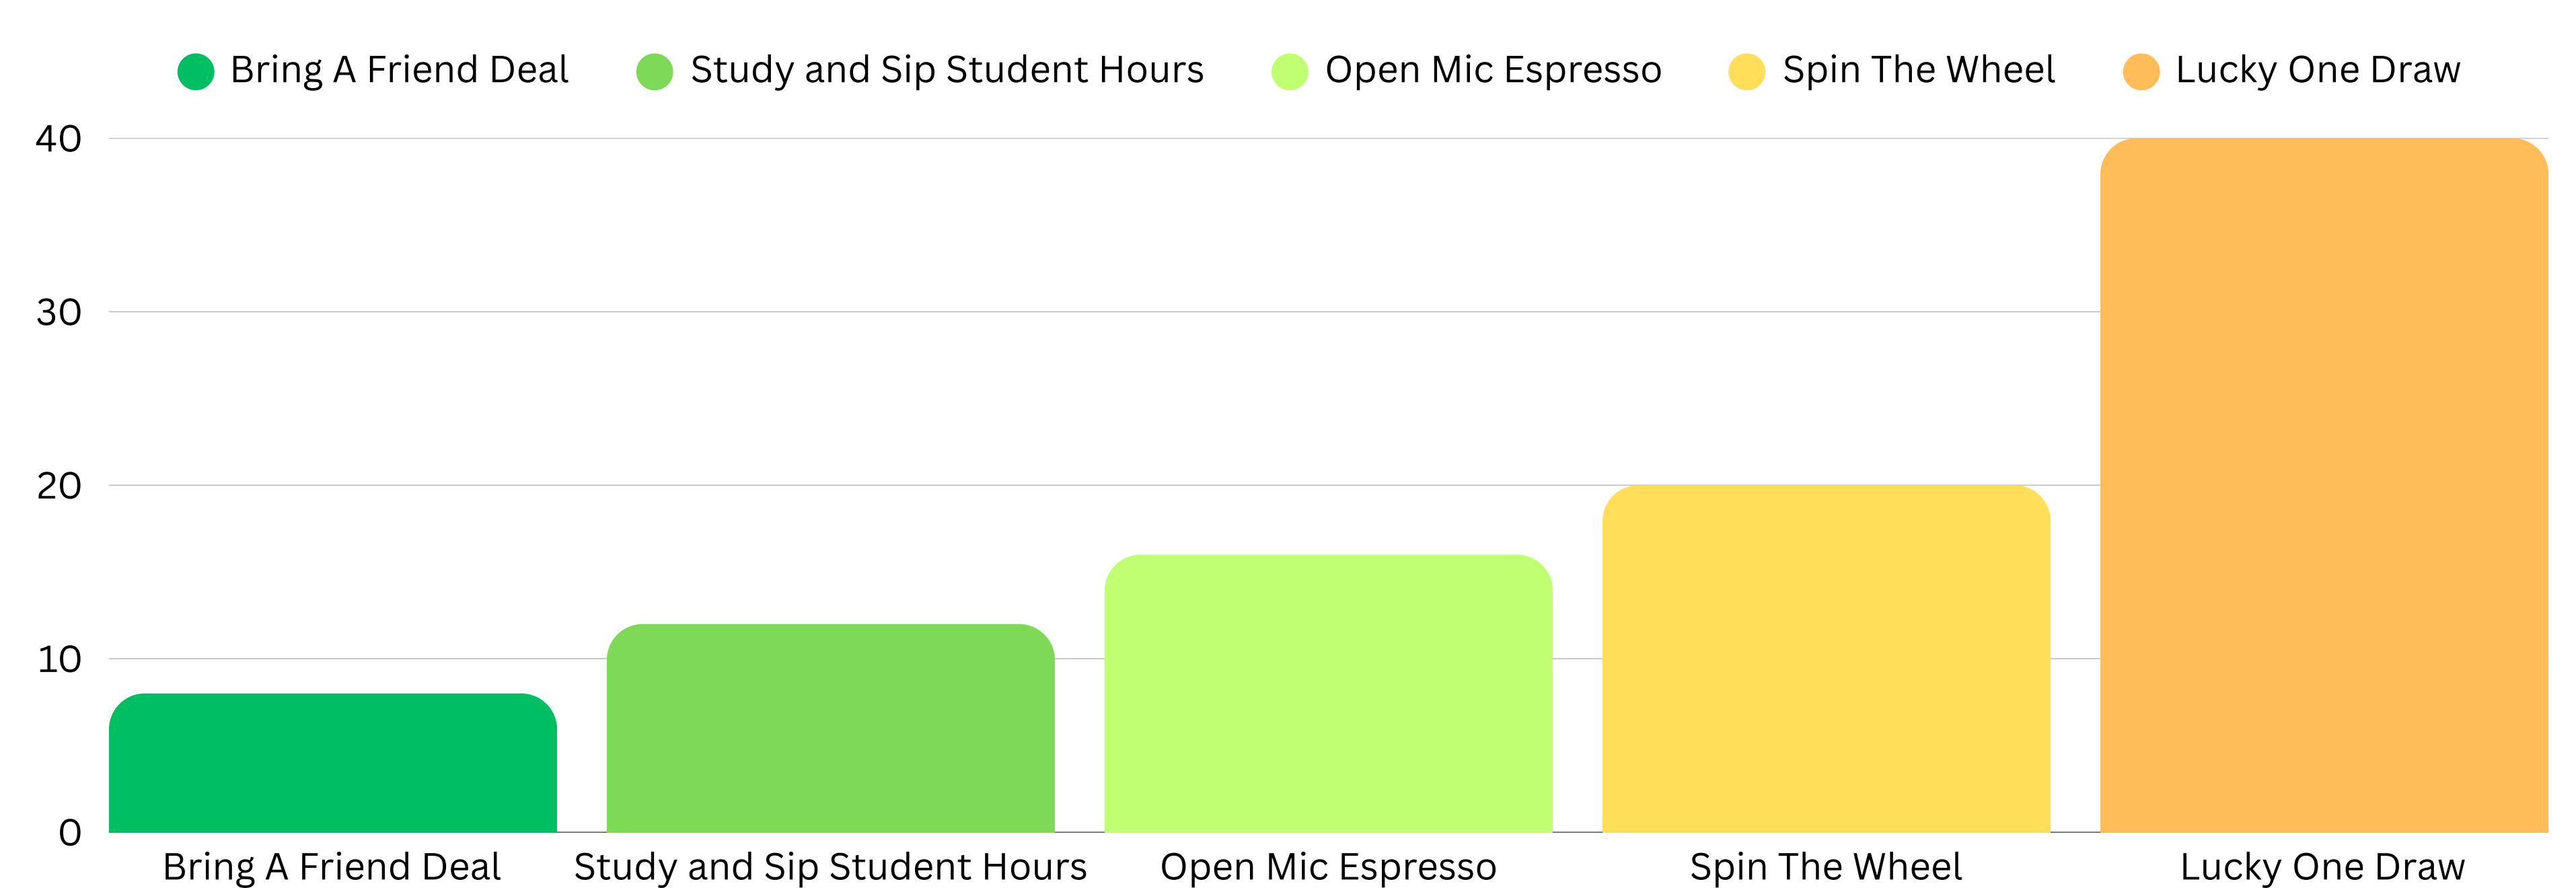

By Lindelwa Khumalo

Marketing Campaigns During Slow Time Slots

Bring A Friend Tuesday buy any drink and get your friend’s drink FREE from 2-5PM.
Encouraging social dining by offering deals that rewards customers for bringing a guest.
Offering 20% off for students between 2-6PM, but they must show their student id.

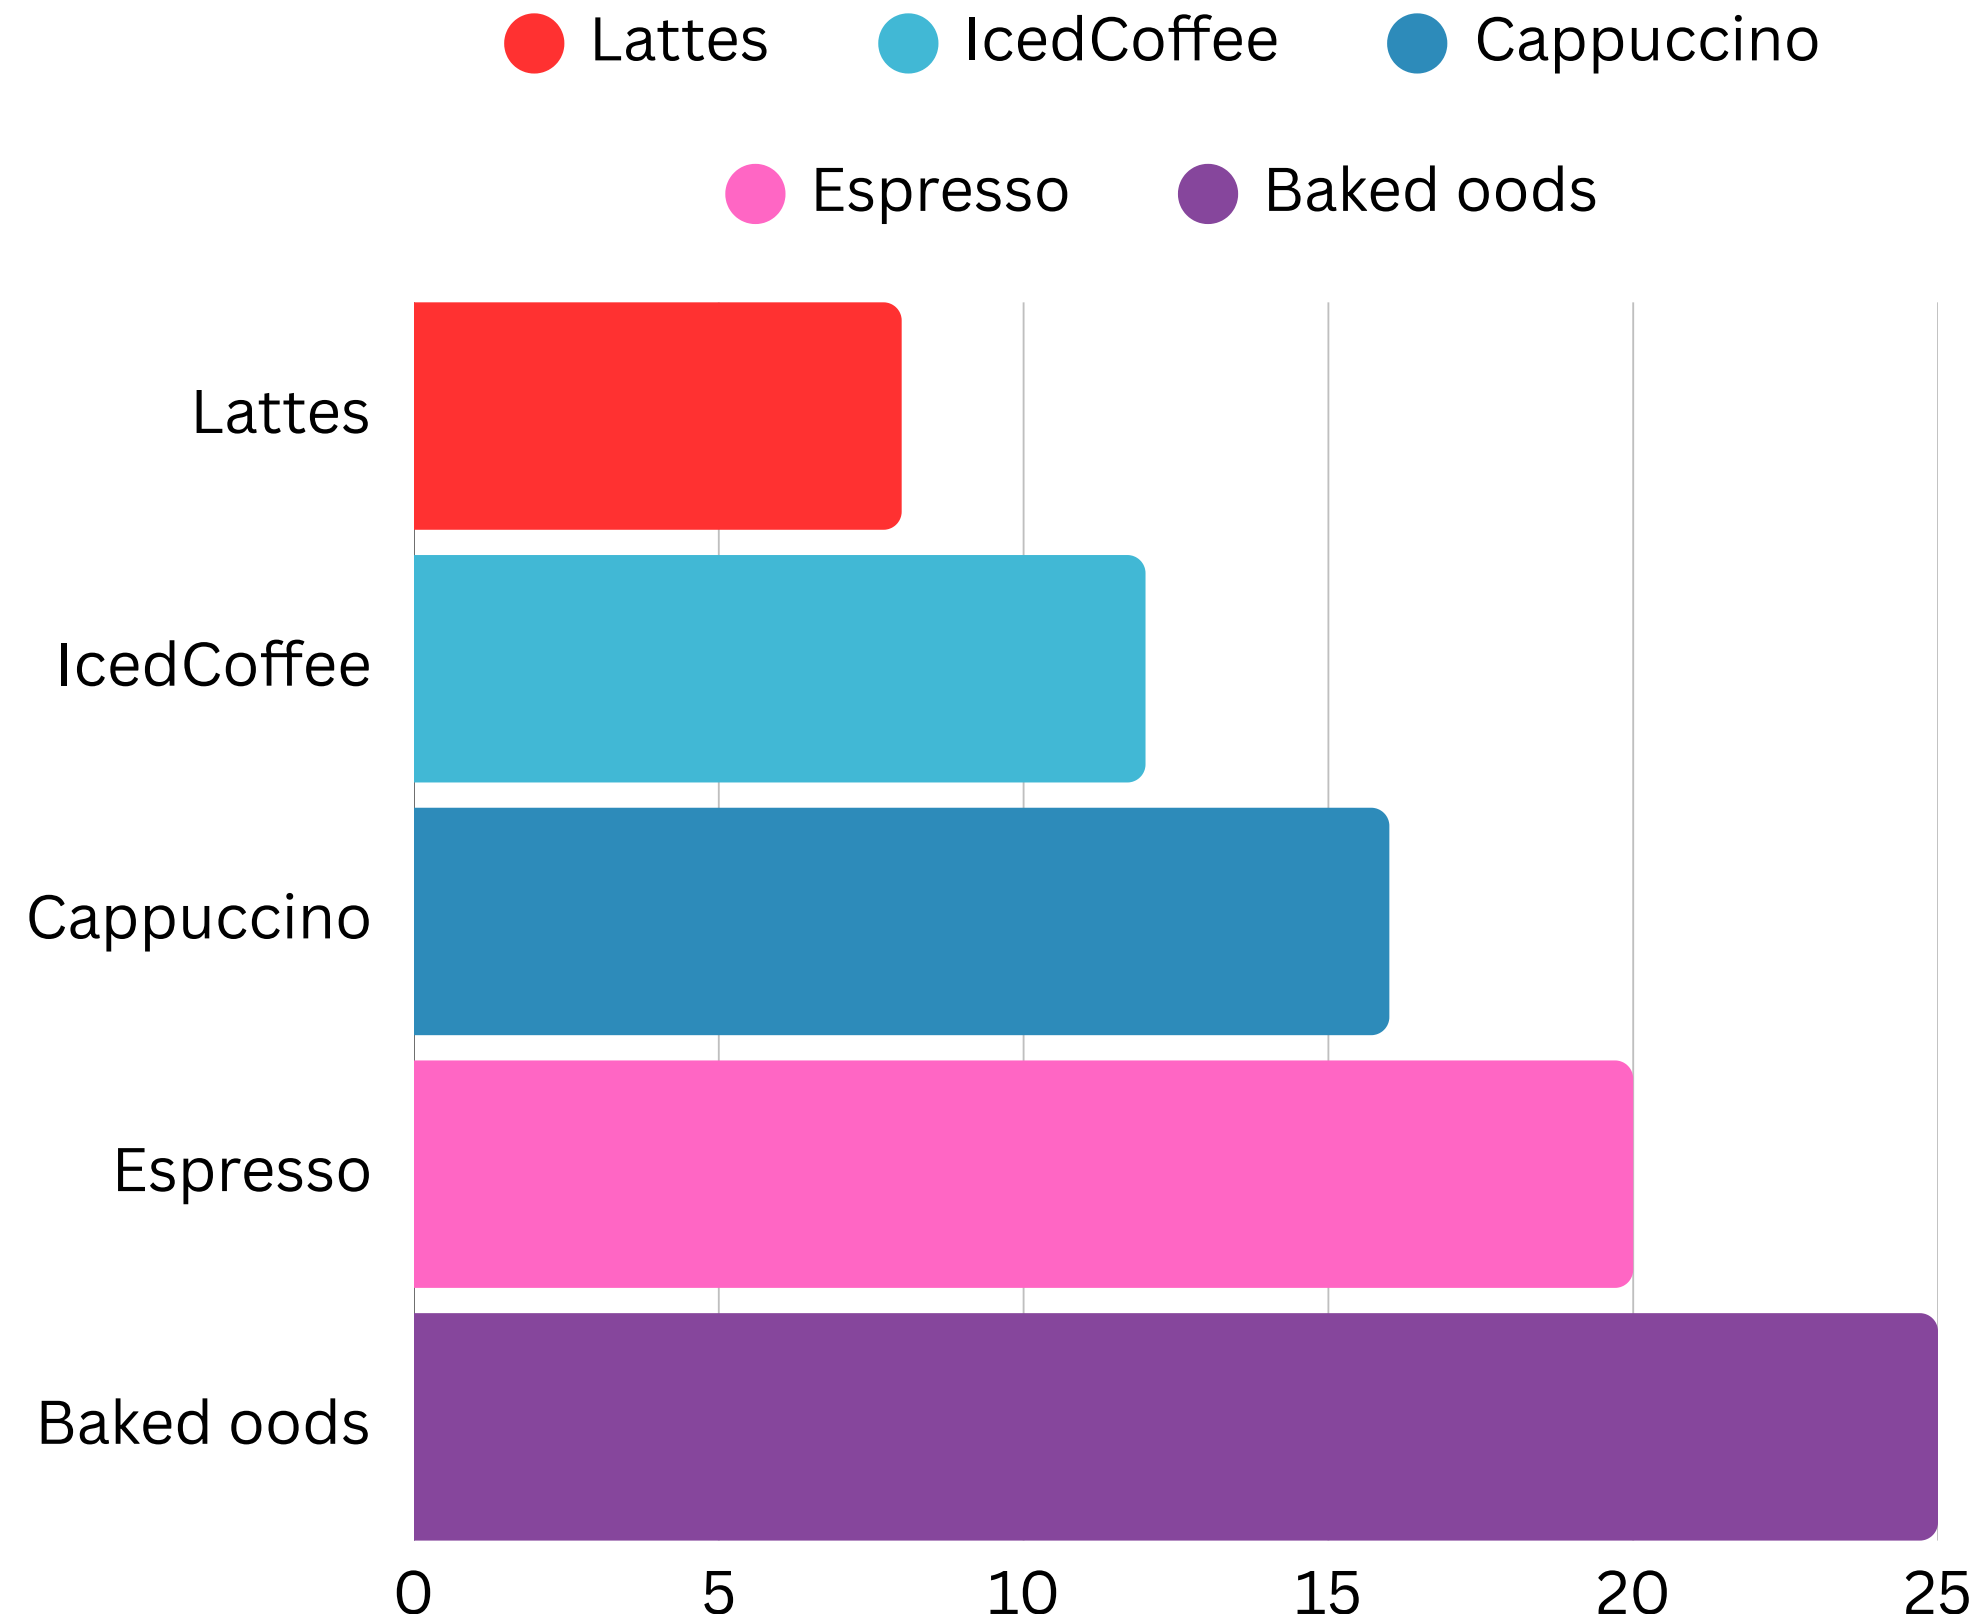

Open Mic Espresso

When slow weekday afternoons 3-6PM local musicians play, drawing in their friends and fans offering FREE drinks for performers.

Spin The Wheel: Small wheel at the register, after spinning customer receives FREE drink.

Lucky One Draw: In a draw customers pick one paper to see whether they they won

stock best selling items

stock best selling items

- Lattes: Student and young professionals buy lattes alot while studying or working in the case. Perfect for our student discount specials
- Cappuccino: Young adults (18-34) are mostly our consumers, cappuccinos are very most popular and are often seen as trendy, social drink amongst them.
- Espresso: Young professionals (25-40 years old) often buy espresso for quick energy boost during work most are men.
- IceCoffee:

Ic coffee

Cappuccino

best selling items

Espresso

Latte

Prompting underperforming products

We can do this by offering attractive promotion deals, bundle them with popular items, using creative marketing strategies like visually appealing social media posts, local partnerships, host special events, and by training staff to actively suggest the products to customers.

Socail Media

Social media plays a huge role in promoting our products and services, we ask our customers to take pictures and post in their social media pages, this way without lot of costs our products and services can reach to multiple individuals.

THE END

Thank you